

THE ONE BARREL AT A TIME CO-OP

Rachel Asarnow

Ms. Asarnow has created a number of community mural and mosaic projects working with groups of volunteers. She has exhibited art in Massachusetts Somerville Open Studios, Club Passim, and the Somerville Museum. She has received project grants from the Somerville Arts Council to support community projects and a partial fellowship to attend the Vermont Studio Center. Recently she worked on a public community project working with groups of volunteers to paint boards of wood that were hung over the doors of vacant buildings in Troy, NY.

Ms. Asarnow is an artist, teacher and organic gardener accredited by the Northeast Organic Farmer's Association as an Organic Landcare Professional. A graduate of Brandeis University with a Bachelors of Arts with a focus on painting, she also has a certificate in graphic design and art education. Born in Canada, she grew up in New Jersey and has recently returned to her home state after many years away.

Rachel Asarnow's rain barrel is a painting of life forms. Both animal and vegetable are popping out of and interacting with a painting of lace. Rachel hopes that her rain barrel will be both a playful and decorative addition to someone's yard.
