

THE ONE BARREL AT A TIME CO-OP

Amy Frankel

Amy Frankel was born and raised in central New Jersey. She earned an Associate's Degree in Fashion Merchandising from the University of Bridgeport and a Bachelor's Degree in Textile Science from the University of Rhode Island. Following graduation she worked in the garment industry in New York. She was a sales rep for a textile company and assisted the designer for the junior sportswear division.

While attending art classes at a local community college she found working with paint and using color was a new medium that was well-suited for her artistic style. With paint she feels free to experiment and explore artistically. Amy has exhibited at Artworks, the Ellarslie Museum, the West Windsor Arts Council, the South Brunswick Arts Council, the June Bug Festival, the Plainsboro Library and the Gallery at Mercer County College in the Mercer County Artist's Show. This is the second rain barrel Amy created for the Rutgers Art Rain Barrel Co-Op. This year's entry is an abstract City Scape. You can see more of her work at www.amypaintbrush.net.
