Paula Uhland:

Short description of barrel design:

This child’s rain barrel gives a simple colorful approach to a new type of fun garden activity for kids. With its bright colors and simple design it lends itself to be a copied by families that would like to create their own unique rain barrel with the family. These “Birds of Paradise”, tell a story to your kids that it’s fun to paint birds of your own on my rain barrel and then use the faucet and hose to water a flower garden. For adults, the simple symbols can signify the link between water and flowers and life. When we see birds in our garden and children, we know we are moving in the right direction.
